Evolution Markets Launches OTC Electronic Transaction Platform for Biofuels Markets

-- EvoScreen™ is designed to enhance trade execution and improve price transparency --

White Plains, NY (July 19, 2010): Evolution Markets Inc. announces today it has launched a bilateral electronic transaction platform for over-the-counter (OTC) physical and financially settled Biofuels Markets. The EvoScreen™ is a web-based screen that was designed to provide biofuels traders improved trade execution in bilateral OTC markets.

The EvoScreen™ will initially support OTC transactions in Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT) cash-settled swaps, block futures, and OTC physical ethanol trades settled against the CBOT Chicago Platt's index. Other physical biofuels markets will be added to the EvoScreen™ platform in the coming weeks.

"The EvoScreen™ is designed to offer biofuels traders a more complete view of bids, offers and trades in the market," said John Dall, Director, Biofuels Markets at Evolution Markets Inc. "Traders will be able to react to market moves with added efficiency and speed, and will be able to effectively handle their bids and offers with a single screen view of the entire market. Of course, traders can continue to use our best-in-class voice brokerage services, but we believe the EvoScreen™ will help advance biofuels markets through increased transparency and more efficient execution."

The EvoScreen™ platform initially will allow users to view and post live bids and offers for select OTC financial and physical ethanol markets. After a brief introductory period, market participants will be able to negotiate transactions in real-time at the click of a mouse.
